Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because:

Regarding 10 U.S. Patent Applicantions indicated on Applicant's IDS filed March 15, 2004, Applicant is respectfully directed to Examiner Interview Summary Record mailed September 8, 2004, which addresses this issue. In short, the examiner has considered these references.

Applicant arguments are substantially directed to the assertion that Roberts does not teach "determining", "a" start time, "each" of the client...", etc. It is noted that Roberts teaches synchronization of a CD to any number of chat room participant devices. Communication (i.e. requests, etc.) between each client device and the server is initialized, and processed accordingly. As currently claimed, Roberts teaches a "predefined" period and a "threshold" period as explained in the Final Office action.
